IRPA Offers Improved Workflow

Farmer hopes IRPA will enable Bank of Montreal to reduce the time needed to set-up new accounts; improve its workflow; and beef-up its customer service.

"IRPA's parameter-driven functionality will allow us to implement new client accounts up to three months faster," he estimates, noting that the system enables "computer literate" employees to perform most lockbox implementations.

Farmer said that the bank's conventional remittance system requires programmers to set up new lockbox accounts, which can take up to three months.

IRPA's parameter-driven functionality also should slash the time needed to change lockbox set ups or ...to streamline its workflow, Farmer said: "The system has some good workflow management tools." For instance, supervisors could use personal computers (PCs) to check the status of work, to assign priorities to batches or schedule work.

Farmer says he isn't bothered by the workflow problems Unisys encountered at its original beta site for the...

(608).

Detailed Description

... investors to participate in the stock market, and consumer response to the availability of online trading has been phenomenal. In 1999 alone, the number of online brokerage accounts grew by over 100%, so that by the end of 1999 there were well over 10 million online brokerage accounts. The increased number of investors and increased trading volume has encouraged many brokerages to compete for market share by reducing trading costs. Of course, brokerages...
